People argue that were excessively negative and pessimistic here at OD, but we in turn see it as a unique form of optimism. You see, there can be significant positives in become aware of the harsher side of this visible reality, and it can aid in achieving a more true form of optimism. An optimism without naivety, where the iris of perception has not been weakened to the point of allowing solely pure light through, but trained towards understanding the harmony that occurs within shades and tones.

A cloudless sky is boring and unnatural. One must be able to embrace the negative with as much love as with the positive in order to find true meaning, and possibly true happiness (although it can be argued that neither exist). Only through acknowledging hell will heaven ever materialize.

So do not mistake our words for misguided hatred and bitterness - at least not in an unhealthy form - the evil was already inside of us, all of us, we never opened a door and invited it in, it was always here.

It becomes a matter of living with it. Keeping it happy without relinquishing control. That is where we will find individual success and/or failure.

All of us,

That is the vin and the vang, dancing in eternal harmony.

The manner in which we here at OD present ourselves is merely our own personal attempt at balance, our own awkward dance with hues and shades.

And nothing more.

(as is everything, but most people do not come right out and say it.)

... and ...

As always, we welcome feedback, comments, submissions or random combinations of vowels and consonants. And we are always seeking out beacons of light, that are delivering the same morse message, across this cold electronic existence ...

Fox puts its 'faith' in brand

LOS ANGELES — Twentieth Century-Fox unveiled a new label on Wednesday called FoxFaith to distribute Christian-based film and videos to tap into a growing faith-based market in the U.S.

Twentieth Century Fox Home Entertainment, a subsidary of the Hollywood studio, said that FoxFaith is "a new branded distribution label to house its growing portfolio of faith-based programming."

It's aimed at Christian retailers, churches and ministry organizations. — AFP

KILL IT!!!

Hold on, just let me clear my throat quickly...alright.

FUCK YOU.

That's right, you heard me, "Fuck You."

And to clarify - avoid any miscommunication - I don't mean the general "you" that bears no face, I don't mean any random "you" that almost nobody knows about. I'm not referring to any sort of religious, educational, or political "you" and I am not confusing "you" with the infamous "they" or "them" we so often blame our problems on. I mean YOU. The specific "you" reading this right now. "You", the individual in the now, engaged in this moment. What's your name? Yeah, that's right.

Fuck You.

Guaranteed, you have performed - or partaken in - an action at some point in your life that would warrant you being told off. You know it. Well, consider this your fucking cleansing. Your metaphorical stoning. And I know what you're thinking, "Who the fuck are you to tell me off and call me cleansed? Fuck you, too!"

Exactly.

We are all without sin, it's a matter of either everyone throwing stones at everyone all at once, or no one throwing any at all. This realization is the key to tolerance.

But who the hell really cares? It's all merely words. This is merely a collaboration of nonsensical characters that somehow spark images. Language is a virus often misinterpreted.

I just wanted to make you think, and spark some unmasked, unfiltered emotion.

Ever took the time to try and find our real dominators? Well I can tell you it's definitely not our government, our military. Ever sit down and watch TV for a few minutes? That is where they have made their new abode, not in our TV programs they're in our commercials. Companies and corporations vying to get our attention just so that they may tell us that their article of creation is the best for us. Once they have our attention their teeth sink in deep, so deep they couldn't let go even if they really wanted to. For their messages and directives shake and change us down to the very essence.

Most of these companies have already discovered a weakness, a flaw, if you will, that is present in humans despite our evolution, but a weakness that many of the creatures on this planet came ingrained with to the very core: Sex. Most of these companies use that to their advantage exploiting it, turning most of the general mundane youth into obedient, carnal, fragile mortals.

Long past has it been since the value the will and the mind has been present, these people who could really feel with their hearts and souls. How? That was for them to decide how. Nevertheless this generation isn't it and many before it, we couldn't be so optimistic to hope for such strength.

However, if you've chosen not to believe me then go watch your idiot box. But before you do that go, go look and see what constitutes lying and deception, and attain knowledge applicable to psychology. Some of the very things I've learned: when someone smiles watch the corner of their eyes, do they squint and wrinkle. If so it's true and only if so will it be true. Humans come with built in imperfections that not one of us could hope to escape. Investigate them and make your decision there and not here.

Alright, let's just assume that past lives happen, and that when we die, we "cross over" to other side for a period of time before returning again, for the sake of argument.

Okay. We all understand the concept that energy cannot be destroyed. It can be converted from one form to another, but cannot be destroyed. Based upon this, we can imply that our passing between the realms of what we call the "living" and the "dead" is essentially a form of conversion, between physical and spiritual forms of energy.

But why? I mean, for one example, if we have lived before our current namesake then why don't we carry over these memories more easily? Surely there must've been mistakes made, and lessons learned, that could prove valuable in this lifetime.

Well, if we can use regression and hypnosis - which taps into the "other side" - to gain knowledge about ourselves, and from ourselves, it is a very important point to note.

We seemingly can't regress into any life at all, only our own. If you were not Abraham Lincoln, memories of living as him will not be present, you will not know the intimate details of his life.

This suggests that the information is truly personal, and it is contained within, although it cannot be remembered. It proves that we aren't merely pulling this information from the Acaciac records or a collective unconscious.

My point?

What this seems to lead to is that we are definitely aware, on some level, of every single moment of our existence in this realm and that we quite possibly carry over heaps of information from previous lifetimes but for some reason or another there are doors locked within our memory that we do not have access to. It's like we're stuck in this cycle of living, learning, dying, forgetting, and starting over, that we have seemingly created ourselves.

So why this cycle? What purpose does it serve? Does this mean we are merely caught within a meaningless loop?

All cycles are used to balance so we can only speculate that this one works the same way. Go back to the idea that energy cannot be destroyed, merely converted. Add in the concept that on the other side we are seemingly aware of our entire existence and what you get is that we are immortal. If we live here to die and go there, and we go there to come back here, there is no end. We are indestructible energy, and on the other side we know all this.

So the only thing I can think of is that we created this cycle ourselves as a balance between eternal life, and a limited one, between knowing everything and knowing nothing, between curiosity and contempt.

I don't know, it just seems to make sense, because no one wants to die - in the idea of ceasing to exist for eternity - but at the same time no one wants to live forever, they would bore easily. So, all I can say is, enjoy the fear, the curiosity, the mystery, for on the other side there may not be any.

Enjoy the box, and being able to think within it
And beyond it.

SOMEONE RECENTLY POSTED THIS ON A MESSAGE BOARD. UNFORTUNATELY, IF THERE IS ONE WAY TO MAKE ME STOP WHAT IM DOING (EVEN IF IM BUSY AT WORK) ITS WHEN PEOPLE WRITE CRAP LIKE THIS. SO I FIGURED IF I HAD ALREADY TAKEN THE TIME TO WRITE IT ALREADY, I MAY AS WELL CUT AND PASTE INTO MY BLOG!

"ALL RELIGIONS SHARE THE TRUTH...ONLY CHRISTIANITY AND JUDAISM AS STATED IN THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS ARE THE ACTUAL TRUTH?"

THIS IS HYPOCRISY OF THE HIGHEST ORDER. NOT ONLY WOULD EVERY RELIGIOUS PERSON SAY THAT THEIR RESPECTIVE RELIGION IS THE 'TRUE' ONE, BUT AREN'T YOU FORGETTING ISLAM AS WELL? AFTER ALL, THEY ARE THE SAME BLOODY RELIGION! OK, THEY MAY HAVE SET ABOUT TRYING TO DESTROY EACH OTHER HUNDREDS OF YEARS AGO IN ONE OF THE LEAST HOLY ENDEAVORS EVER, THE CRUSADES, BUT YOU STILL SHARE THE SAME ROOTS! YOU BELIEVE IN THE SAME GOD!

THE 'TRUTHS' THAT HE SPEAKS OF COME FROM ST PAUL, EMPEROR CONSTANTINE AND EMPEROR AUFUSTINE MORE THAN THE TEACHINGS OF JESUS. JESUS TAUGHT TOLERANCE AND FORGIVENESS, SOMETHING THE MODERN, VOCAL CHRISTIANITY BEARS LITTLE RESEMBLANCE TOO. I THOUGHT JESUS WAS MEANT TO HAVE SAID "IT IS EASIER FOR A CAMEL TO PASS THROUGH THE EYE OF A NEEDLE THAN FOR A RICH MAN TO ENTER THE KINGDOM OF GOD?". IF SO THEN SURELY THAT MAKES ROME THE HYPOCRITICAL CENTRE OF THE WORLD?

THERE IS ENOUGH ACTUAL EVIDENCE AND TESTIMONY TO SUGGEST A DEEPER MEANING TO LIFE WITHOUT HAVING TO SUBMIT TO THE BELIEFS OF OTHERS, BELIEFS THAT HAVE BEEN FORMED OVER HUNDREDS OF YEARS BY PEOPLE NOT THERE TO WITNESS IT FOR THEMSELVES. THROUGH HEARSAY AND LEGEND, THOUGH THE MOUTHS OF THE FEW TO THE IMAGINATIONS OF THE MANY, THIS UNREASONED AND FICTIONAL DOGMA HAS, FOR SOME, BECOME UNQUESTIONABLE AND THEREFORE UNCOMPROMISABLE.

JESUS, IF OBJECTIVE AND THOROUGH HISTORIANS ARE TO BE TRUSTED OVER DOGMA, TAUGHT A MUCH DIFFERENT 'TRUTH' THAN CURRENT CHRISTIANITY. CURRENT CHRISTIANITY TROUBLES ITSELF WITH IMPOSING ITS WILL UPON OTHERS, BE IT FROM UP HIGH (BUSH'S VETO OF STEM CELL RESEARCH) OR FROM BELOW (THE MASSIVE INFLUENCE AMERICA'S BIBLE BELT HAS ON POLICY).

i rode with a lot of dogs, too. the taber-dog, a hatchback guy's dog, asia, two dogs the guy who rescued us from castlegar had the ride from beverdell to kelowna... that last dog had priority in the cab of the guy's pick-up, so i had to sit in the open back. but he gave us beer and chips and apples and a ride to bean's house. in kelowna, i hooped. you'll have to go to kelowna and get drunk to find out what that means, i won't ruin the surprise.

i lucked^{out} on most of the rides, too. the majority were smokers, and i chain-smoked and coffeed my way through the prairies. well, maybe not lucky, ~~but~~ cause i was sick and smoking way too much, ~~but~~ but at least i could smoke at all without stopping for a cigarette. got to smoke some weed in the kootenays that was good, too.

calgary was pretty ridiculous. me and todi got harassed by two cops for checking out this semi-circle graffiti thing at one am with big bags on. the overpass there wasn't all that cold, somehow, to sleep under, but i woke up and peed three times from all the coffee.

I am a strong advocate of performing cruel and unusual experiments on young children. Not for the sake of science, or even for the sake of cruelty, but rather, for the sake of itself.

For an instance, imagine if you will, a child whose senses are all numbed or severed before their first thought, the first electrical impulse in their brain.

I'll have to ask Dr. Science for the specifics, I don't know when the first detectable brain activity begins, or even if the technology to do this exists yet but I'm imagining a scenario sort of like this:

Step one: combine egg and sperm into spermy egg. I don't care if we do this in a girl or in a test tube, the specifics don't matter yet.

Step two: before its first thoughts we essentially take this almost-baby and totally just mess with it. We blind it, we deafen it, we sever all its nerve endings, cut out its sense of taste and smell; entirely wipe out all five senses.

Step three: do whatever you have to do to a fetus thing to make it into a baby.

Step four: stand back and bask in the glory of our accomplishment.

Why is this an awesome thing to do? Because we have just created a baby with no connection to the rest of the world at all!

Ancient philosophers used to give themselves ulcers worrying about things like how they could trust their senses, whether or not the "real world" was anything more than a dream. This child has no such worries as it does not know, and will never know, that any "real world" even exists. All it can ever even imagine existing is its own mind. It has absolute control over absolutely everything.

Why should this be interesting to anyone else?

Because the state this child exists in the exact same way an omnipotent monotheistic God would exist.

Oblivious of anything not contained within itself.

Only one third of the school's financial expenditure for the program. Boylan and her small band of anti-JROTC parents could cite only one victory: they did succeed in persuading the principal to ban JROTC from bringing guns—real or make-believe—into the school. They failed in their parallel efforts to prevent the JROTC-uniformed cadets from being given the sole responsibility for raising the American flag on the school grounds each morning. Although this activity was a seemingly minor one, Boylan believed it was symbolically significant: "Will school children now imagine that a member of the math club or the French club is somehow less of a full American citizen than a member of the JROTC is?"³¹

School board members, along with many parents, have accepted the military's argument that, in post-Cold War America, militarized training in high school will instill discipline in "marginal" students, will teach patriotism, and will provide a post-school career track. Although Defense officials assure local parents that the JROTC is not intended to encourage teenagers to enlist in the military, approximately 45 percent of JROTC graduates do enter military programs.³²

The introduction of this energetically promoted program for early teenage Americans has not occurred without debate, but the number of communities in which it has been voluntarily adopted suggests that militarization is not a process that became passé in the United States too adaptable, far

So, i was sitting on a curb, smoking a joint, when i noticed this family sitting in a minivan eating takeout value meals. The van had one of those bumper stickers that read, "Proud Parents of an Honor Roll Student". I could see the kid in the back seat chomping into a cheeseburger, wearing his band uniform, or Scouts uniform, or something. You know the type. Well, an urge overcame me and i decided to approach the van - half drunk, joint in hand, unshaven, wearing all black, a metal t-shirt, and bloodshot eyes - and gently tapped on the driver's side window... The father looked at me, startled, and then rolled down his window, just a couple of inches, murmuring through the tiny space, "Oh, I'm really sorry. I don't have any spare change." Spare change. How i hate assumptions. I quickly replied, "Actually, sir. I noticed your bumper sticker, and felt the urge to approach you and testify to the fact that i too was an Honor Roll student during my time within an academic establishment. Congratulations on your child's achievement. Now, if you'll please excuse me, i must be on my way." I could see the kid watching. I took a deep haul off the reefer and blew my smoke clean through the crack of his window before he had a chance to close it - knowing scent to be the strongest attachment to memory - and walked away without looking back.

It was my good deed for the day.
